TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

Paducah at Vincennes.
Jackson at Henderson.
Cairo at Clarksville.

SATURDAY'S K. I. T. RESULTS.

Cairo 3, Hopkinsville 2, twelve innings.
Jackson 4, Vincennes 1.

Over 2,000 fans witnessed a clean, exciting and well played game of ball as they could have wished at the Wallace park grounds yesterday afternoon between Paducah and Henderson. It was hotly contested from the first, and was won by the superior playing of the Paducah boys, who put up a superb article of ball.

Pete Dunn umpired, and did it to the satisfaction of everybody. There was no wrangling and the spectators seemed to appreciate it. The crowd again sustained the claim that Paducah is one of the best ball towns in this part of the country.

Freeman, the new pitcher for Paducah, is the real thing, and the visitors tried in vain to find him. He is a swift twirler, uses his head, and is a good hitter. Paducah's team now appears to be strong in every part, and as usual Clifford was everywhere and fully acquitted himself as one of the idols of the fans. Girard, the new pitcher, has proven good with the stick, and Paducah now has one of the best arrays of sluggers in the league.

A heavy shower for fifteen minutes failed to dampen the ardor of the enthusiastic spectators yesterday. The visitors played fast ball, but they couldn't get on to the pitcher, and made only five hits off him, while McNett, for Henderson, was touched for twelve.

The game by innings:

FIRST INNING.

Paducah: Sweeney singled to infield, forced out at second on Murray's hit in pitcher. Sexton hit to second baseman who forced Murray out, and reached second on wild throw to first. Simcox rapped to short, retiring the side on throw to first.

Henderson: Copeland sent a grass outter to Murray, who made a good one handed stop, but was forced out at second on Ogden's hit to infield. Laegsford fanned and Ogden died trying to fitch second, by a fine play of Le Compte.

SECOND INNING.

Paducah: Clifford called one toward left field fence and made two bags. Le Compte failed to connect after three trials. Clifford stole second. Booker hit to center and the sphere dropped into fielder's hands. Girard drove one to center field fence, making two bags and scoring Clifford. Freeman fanned retiring side. One run.

Henderson: Kling hit to third baseman and got first on wild throw. Richards struck out. Harris fanned, hit to second baseman and his pass to first was no good.

THIRD INNING.

Paducah: Sweeney grounded past in and outfielders and didn't stop until he touched second. Murray grounded to short, but it was too hot to stop and batter made first, Sweeney making third. Sexton went out on fly to center. Simcox struck by ball. Clifford went out on a fly, but Sweeney scored before left could shut him off at plate. Le Compte singled, filling bases.

WOUNDS ARE SERIOUS

"Lark" Cut by Two Negroes who Made Their Escape on Bikes

Several Gashes Left By Assaultants—Cutting Saturday and Another Yesterday.

AND NOT A RAZOR USED

Wm. Knight, colored, better known as "Lark," was seriously if not fatally cut yesterday afternoon on South Eighth street between Tennessee and Ohio and it is claimed that John and Cooley Scott, colored, did the cutting. Knight has for many years been fireman on the Bettie Owen, and it is alleged the trouble yesterday started over a crap game, and the police have been informed that Knight went to the house near where the cutting occurred and called the Scott negroes out, and the trouble started without further delay. Knight was cut twice on the head, twice in the face, once in the back of the neck and once on the arm. The wound on his neck is the most dangerous and came near killing him outright.

The police were notified of the cutting and Dr. Bass was called to attend the injured man. The negro claims that all he knows about the trouble is that a yellow negro cut him. The two men charged with doing the cutting made their escape on bicycles, and the police have been unable to apprehend them.

One of the Scott men was arrested back of Joppa and the other was at last accounts being pursued back of Brookport.

There was a cutting scrape Saturday night at the Chamblin brickyard. According to the report made at police headquarters Sam Winstead, colored, was seriously cut by Matt Grace who escaped. The wounds are not necessarily fatal and the cause was not learned.

The principals in the third cutting scrape were Walter Tucker and Nera Hutchinson, also colored. It is claimed that they had a fight in which the woman cut the man in the back, but did not injure him much. All were arrested and Will Deboe was arrested for being an accessory, it being charged he gave the woman the knife with which she did the cutting.

DEATH IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, June 8—Mrs. Sarah Kirkpatrick, widow of Dr. John O. Kirkpatrick, died this morning from a paralytic stroke. She was 74 years old and a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

WEDDING IN GRAVES.

Mayfield, June 8—The following couples were married here today: Burnett Barriger and Clara Jemell; Wm. Scofield and Sallie McClure; Cap Bridgeforth and Maud Diekey.

THE NEW SCHEDULE

It Is Expected That it Will go in About July 4th.

Center Fielder for the Paducah Club Quits—Decatur, Ala., Wants to Join.

WHERE PADUCAH PLAYS

The K. I. T. league schedule committee met yesterday and decided to change the present schedule about July 4. The present schedule will be kept throughout this month and after July 4 no team will go out for more than a series of six games.

Next Monday the league will begin paying players regular salaries and will secure professional men to do the work. After this has been done no more "beefing" will be in order.

Lambert and Oppock, catcher and fielder, who were "let out" of the local team, have gone to Dayton, O., to play ball.

Faller, center fielder for the Paducah team, has resigned. He was unlucky in several attempts and really accepted more balls than were really his. Friday he accepted two chances that belonged to the right field. He will return to his home to play in the Louisville city league. He does not have to play ball, being a young tobaccoist of considerable means.

New Decatur, Ala., is knocking for admittance into the K. I. T. league. The local managers have received their application but nothing definite has been decided. This is a little out of line but if the team "shows up" well, will probably be admitted.

The Paducah boys left last night at 6:15 for Vincennes, Ind., to play a series of three games. From Vincennes the team will go to Henderson for three games, return here Sunday where it will meet Hopkinsville for three games after which the home boys will rest for three days, where the Owensboro team should have played. An attempt will be made to get another team here during that period.

JUDGE CAMPBELL SERVES

AS SPECIAL JUDGE OF THE BENTON COURT.

Judge Hasbunds is ill and was unable to go to Benton this morning to convene court and Judge James Campbell was sent in his place. He left this morning for Benton and was accompanied by Commonwealth Attorney Bradshaw and Attorneys W. A. Berry and J. M. Woriten. The regular criminal term began today with no cases of unusual importance on the docket. Today nothing was done except to luncheon the grand jury.

Messrs. Park Powell, Harry Prather, Emmet Adams and Hugh Saunders of Hickman spent Sunday in Paducah.

ALL EYES TURNED

Towards the School Muddle Investigation Now.

It Will Begin Tonight, With Prospects of a Large Crowd on Hand to Hear It.

MANY WITNESSES TO BE CALLED

The grievance committee of the board of education, Trustees Mattison, Jackson and Mammen, will tonight at the high school building hold an investigation of the charges filed against Supt. O. B. Hatfield of the public schools by the former principals, Prof. Norvel, Prof. Snyder and Miss Emma Morgaa. It is likely, however, that it will be practically a meeting of the whole board, as most of the members have signified their intention of going, and in addition there will be a large number of citizens on hand, as well as most of the public school teachers.

The investigation will be public, and the members of the committee state they will see that both sides are afforded every facility for carrying out the proceedings in a satisfactory manner.

It is likely that there has been nothing in Paducah in quite awhile that has aroused the interest the present school troubles have aroused, and the development of the muddle is being watched with unabated concern.

Speculation has given rise to many rumors, one of which was that the superintendent, seeing how things have developed, would voluntarily retire at the expiration of the present term, which is denied by the superintendent, so far as his intention to resign or not be an applicant for re-election is concerned.

Some of the members of school board say that they will force harmony if they have to fire every teacher they have and expel every pupil in the schools. They doubtless would not think of carrying it that far, however, even if such a plan could bring about the desired result.

Another question that is being freely discussed is how the graduates will behave on commencement night, in view of the tension that has resulted from the controversy in the schools. The board of education, deposed principal of the high school, superintendent of the schools and the graduates will all be together on the stage, and if a demonstration is evoked it will be very fortunate both for the city and the schools.

It is possible that the investigation will not be finished tonight, as there will from reports be a large number of witnesses to interrogate, and the committee will likely not be ready to announce a report for some time after the conclusion. The public will be able to anticipate the result, however, from the evidence, as there seems to be a disposition on part of the members of the board to be guided by the evidence and not allow partiality or prejudice to influence them.

This morning every teacher in the public schools was summoned to appear before the committee and testify. The committee has the same power as a court to subpoena witnesses, and it is understood a number of the teachers are very much excited over having to testify, as there are a number who did not desire to become directly or indirectly involved in the difficulty. Should they refuse to testify they may be punished for contempt the same as they could be in a court.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot stated this afternoon that he had been employed by Superintendent Hatfield to represent him at the investigation.

A PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATE.

Williamsburg, June 8—Whitley will probably have a candidate on the Republican ticket in the person of John W. Siler, cashier of the Williamsburg bank, for state auditor. Mr. Siler will not say he is a candidate, but friends are confident he would not refuse the nomination.

Major T. E. Moss has returned from a trip down the river, where he joined for several days a fishing party.

All the Churches Yesterday Had Large Congregations.

Revivals Continue in Interest—Japanese Lecturer Entertains.

MR. HANNA READS A PAPER

Rev. R. L. Cole, of Texarkana, will arrive today to assist in the Second Baptist revival which is increasing in interest.

The several revivals in progress at the various churches are doing well. That under the tent on West Tennessee street, the one in Mechanicsburg and that at the Second Baptist church are all drawing large congregations and the interest manifested is great.

The Ministerial association met this morning in Rev. G. W. Perryman's study at the First Baptist church and Mr. Stuart Hanna, of the Y. M. O. A., read a paper on moral conditions in Paducah, which was quite interesting and was ably discussed by those present. Nothing out of the ordinary transpired.

Mr. Stuart B. Hanna, secretary of the Y. M. O. A., has been employed by the officers of the First Presbyterian church to hold the services regularly at Mizpah mission church, on Elizabeth street, every Sunday night. Mr. Hanna has no services at the Y. M. O. A. Sunday night and will make an excellent man for the work.

Wednesday night the session of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will meet at the First Cumberland church here to act regarding the calling of Rev. George O. Bachman, of Nashville, who has preached here the past two Sundays. Secretary Patterson, of the Cumberland Presbyterian board of missions and Rev. B. Wrenn Webb, of Mayfield, will probably be in attendance.

Last night Rev. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian church, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class and the church was well filled. The preaching began at 7:45 and the graduates sat in the front of the church with the teachers. After the services the graduates all shook hands with the minister and walked out of the church at the head of the congregation which had been asked to remain until the graduates left the building. The services were excellent and the sermon one of the best of its kind ever heard here.

The Japanese lecturer A. Ioyde, lectured yesterday at the First Christian and the First and Second Baptist churches, to large crowds and pleased as well as instructed those who heard him very much. This afternoon he and his wife are being entertained by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church, which will in addition to holding its regular meeting give a reception in the visitor's honor. Those on the refreshment committee are: Mesdames James Long, Courtney and Robert Long, Lukens, Lewis, Lassiter, Morrow, Meadows, Morgan and Moultrie. The Young ladies' society composed the reception committee.

TAKEN TO OHIO.

REMAINS OF A BROOKPORT WOMAN CARRIED THERE TODAY.

The remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney, of Brookport, wife of Mr. J. W. Whitney, the soap factory man, were brought to the city this morning on the steamer and shipped to La Grange, O., for interment.

She died Friday night of paralysis at the age of 57 years, and the funeral was preached yesterday afternoon at Brookport by Rev. W. T. Morris, of Metropolis. The remains were brought up this morning on the steamer Owlwing and shipped directly to Ohio. A portion of the funeral party accompanied the remains to the city, returning at 11 o'clock on the same boat.

Mr. Joe Deberger and bride have returned from their trip to St. Louis.

MORE BLOODSHED

Another Killing in Breathitt From Factional Strife.

Petition to Organize a Military Company There—Why Hargis Is Med.

PRISONERS POISONED IN JAIL

FROM SEAT OF WAR.

Jackson, Ky., June 8.—At Goebel's Gap on Long creek, this county, the Hargis and anti-Hargis, or Marcum-Cookrill, factions clashed in a battle, the result of which is one dead and two wounded.

Constable Bolin, accompanied by seven militiamen sent from the military camp here, arrived late Saturday in Jackson with Harry Sizemore, John Sandlin and Lee Combs and placed them in jail, charged with murder. The fight began in the blind tiger of "Spikes" Martin, and grew out of a remark made by James Gay, a Hargis man, who said that the "Marcums and Littles and Harsts were the worst scared lot of fellers in Breathitt county."

Sizemore and Sandlin are nephews of Captain Hurst, the wealthy brother of Postmaster Hurst of Jackson, who is the father-in-law of the late J. B. Marcum, one of the men assassinated by Curtis Jett and Tom White.

Sizemore took sides of the Marcum faction and challenged Gay's statements.

Sandlin drew his revolver and said he would clean out the place. From this the shooting commenced. Gay ran to cover behind a tree, at the same time firing his forty-four as fast as he could. A Marcum man named Spindel was shot through the shoulder and a man named Grow had a slight flesh wound in the arm. Gay was shot to pieces and his body lay under the tree all night.

The situation in the Hargis-Marcum feud took an unexpected turn when it became known that a petition is being circulated asking Governor Beekham to order that a military company be raised and mustered into service here. The anti-Hargis people look upon the move as being in the interest of the Hargises, who, they fear desire to get control of such an organization and use it against them. They say they will therefore oppose such a move on the ground that, once in possession of the state's guns and ammunition, they might use it to break instead of guard the law.

Thomas Marcum has issued a statement, pronouncing Judge Hargis' reasons for lending assistance to his nephew, Curtis Jett, in his trial for the assassination of J. B. Marcum, "Hargis law." Hargis said it was because Marcum's father, with a band of soldiers, had looted the home of his father during the war. Mr. Marcum said the murder of the son for an offense charged to his father was a fair sample of Hargis' ideas of justice.

She Is Cured—Enjoying the Best of Health

After Years of Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Her.

"Five years ago my wife was a constant sufferer from weak heart and fainting spells that would cause her heart to flutter violently, leaving her in a very weak condition. She was extremely nervous, had little appetite, could not sleep well and was unable to do her household duties. She began the use of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and after the first bottle felt great relief. She has now used five bottles and I can say she is cured and enjoying the best of health. She goes out a great deal, does all her own work and she thinks all the credit belongs to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and we take pleasure in giving you this testimonial hoping it will be of benefit to others. I will add that I used the Restorative Nervine this spring as a spring tonic and it made a new man of me."—S. C. STAPLETON, Greenville, Texas.

The heart when exhausted relaxes just as does any weakened or exhausted muscle, causing the circulation to wholly or partially cease, when the person becomes weak, or perhaps faint. Should the relaxation continue for a minute or two sudden death is the consequence. If your heart is weak, if it flutters, palpates, tires easily, you should immediately begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. This great blood and heart tonic has been uniformly successful in the treatment of heart disease. It enriches the blood, strengthens the heart nerves, regulates the pulse and improves the circulation.

has been considerable excitement here on account of the mob prisoners confined in the county jail being poisoned.

Of the twenty prisoners in the county jail there are five charged with being members of the mob that murdered Constable W. J. Mooneyhan and his prisoner, "Rev. D. M. Malone, on May 2. They divided part of their meal with Arthur Anstin, one of the seven men accused of murdering Mrs. Carrie Johnston last November and he also became sick. Drs. Crowa Martin and Conrad were hastily summoned and soon had all the men out of danger except Disher and it seemed for a time that his life could not be saved.

How the men received the poison is a mystery that is worrying the officials. If accidentally a theory is that some of the vegetables furnished the men have been saturated with paris green which the gardeners are using at this season of the year to kill bugs.

HE, TOO, INCONSOLABLE.

Paris, June 8.—The breaking of the engagement of Jules Bois and Emma Olave has had the effect of driving the well known psychologist to a monastery.

Jules Bois, who has a great deal of temperament and is highly sentimental, feels deeply that the prima donna should drop him. She herself finds surcease of sorrow in hard work.

Whether Bois will remain permanently in this monastery or has gone there merely to bury his melancholy for a brief period is not known. His friends think he has concluded that love and hope and beauty's bloom are hollow nothings, and will stay in the monastery.

LINCOLN'S LAST APPOINTEE.

Little Rock, Ark., June 8.—A letter has been received in Little Rock from Judge H. O. Caldwell of the Eighth United States circuit stating that he forwarded his resignation to President Roosevelt on June 2 to take effect on June 4. The letter was written at Wagon Wheel Gap, Col., where the judge is spending the summer with his family. Judge Caldwell was appointed United States district judge by President Lincoln in 1864, and was promoted to the circuit bench by President Harrison. He reached the age limit of 70 years last September.

CAPTAIN HENRY BAILEY

WILL ANNOUNCE SHORTLY FOR CITY CLERK NOMINATION.

Captain Henry Bailey, of the police department, will shortly announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for city clerk of Paducah. Captain Bailey's friends say he can beat all comers and have been urging him to make the race, finally persuading him to run. As yet no one has announced for the office, but it is expected that there will be others.

Captain Bailey is not only an energetic, hardworking official, but a popular one as well, and is well prepared to give all comers a race.

WILL MARRY

BEFORE HE COMES TO PADUCAH TO ACCEPT POSITION.

The board of education at Hopkinsville held a meeting Friday night to elect superintendent and teachers, and nearly all were re-elected. The Hopkinsville papers state that Prof. Wm. Alexander, who has been promised Miss Emma Morgan's place here, was not an applicant there, as he was coming to Paducah, and will be married to Miss Daisy Gardner, a popular teacher of that place, who was also not an applicant. They will come here after the wedding next week, it is understood, to reside.

MARSHALL COUNTY COUPLED MARRIED IN METROPOLIS YESTERDAY.

Mr. Elmore Baker and Miss Annie Gordon, of Selma, Marshall county, eloped yesterday and passed through the city en route to Metropolis, where they were married by Justice Liggett last night. They returned this morning en route home.

TRIAL WEDNESDAY

SUPT. HARRY WALLACE CONFIDENT HE WILL COME CLEAR.

The board of Aldermen has decided to hold the investigation of charges against Supt. Harry Wallace of the city light plant, preferred by the mayor or at the instance of the committee. Supt. Wallace says he thinks he can easily disprove all the charges.

TROOPS MAY EN CAMP

Almost Definitely Settled That Kentucky Gets Manuevers.

Will Bring Many Soldiers—Jim Crow Law Unconstitutional in Tennessee—Steamboat Fired On.

WESTERN KENTUCKIANS MEET

BIG ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Frankfort, Ky., June 8.—A telegram received by Adjutant General Murray, of the Kentucky state guard, from Adjutant General Wagner, U. S. A., of the Department of the Lakes, Chicago, states that the combined maneuvers of regular and state troops, provided for annually by the new army bill, will probably be held in Kentucky, near Louisville, this year. The camp will be held in October next, and will include the soldiers of Kentucky and several other states together with a regiment or more of regulars. The camps will be selected by General Bates U. S. A. in command of the Department of lakes. He is expected to arrive in Louisville shortly for that purpose. A camp site near West Point Hardin county will likely be recommended to him for the annual camp.

It is not likely that the participation of the state guard in the regular army maneuvers will interfere with the holding by the state military department of its annual camp of instruction though it may do so. It is suggested that the state camp be held at the regular time so as to better prepare the guard to participate in the regular army maneuvers.

ENTUCKIANS FAR FROM HOME

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8.—Former residents of the state of Kentucky to the number of 100 or more enjoyed an outing at Long Beach Saturday, the occasion being the first annual picnic of the Kentucky association of Southern California. This excursion was held during the first week in June in honor of the 110th anniversary of the admission of Kentucky into the union. Long Beach is a seaside resort about twenty miles from Los Angeles.

The orator of the day was Mattison B. Jones, a bright young attorney of Los Angeles, and one of the leading spirits in the organization. He is from Lexington, Ky. Mr. Jones took his home state as his theme.

Following a number of others spoke extemporaneously and the exercises of the afternoon wound up most fittingly with the singing of "My Old Kentucky Home."

STEAMBOAT FIRED ON.

Evansville, Ind., June 8.—An attack was made on the steamer Park City at the mouth of Green river Saturday night. Some one hailed the boat as she entered Green river, and as the boat turned around several volleys were fired at her. No one was hurt. The cabin was filled with shot. Some of the men on the boat had Winchester, and returned the fire. The Park City plies between this city and Bowling Green on the upper Green river. The passengers on the boat were greatly alarmed.

THE LAW IS DEFECTIVE.

Jackson, Tenn., June 8.—The Jim Crow law providing separate compartments for whites and blacks in street cars, which was passed by the recent legislature, has just been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court here. The court did not go into the merits of the law itself, but declared the act unconstitutional because its caption was not explicit enough and did not state what portion of the old law it was sought to amend.

MAYFIELD TOBACCO SALES.

Mayfield, Ky., June 8.—Tobacco dealers here are very much elated over the prospects of a general movement in tobacco. About 400 hogheads were sold here last week at reasonable prices, with fair prospects of more to follow.

FORMER KENTUCKIAN DIES.

Mayfield, Ky., June 8.—News has been received here of the death of Mr. Leon Melton, brother of Messrs. Frank and Ed Melton, of Mayfield. He was 35 years old and died in Vicksburg, Miss.

COULD COME HERE

BUT THERE IS NO SUITABLE BUILDING IN PADUCAH.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky and Tennessee Photographers' association will be held at Chattanooga beginning the 10th. Mr. W. G. McFadden of the city is president, and accompanied by his wife will leave for Chattanooga Thursday, it being necessary for him to be there in advance to complete arrangements.

Paducah could easily get the next annual meeting, or the one following. At the most, it is believed by President McFadden, if there were a suitable building here. There is not one large enough for the many exhibits that are features of the meetings.

MEN WHO WEAR STRIPED TROUSERS AND WHISTLE.

Chicago, June 8.—If he wears striped trousers and whistles, beware of him, Maggie," said Judge Neely in tones of kindly advice.

Maggie Lane was weeping bitterly. "I didn't know it was so awful," she sobbed, as she left the court a free girl. "I noticed that his trousers were pretty long and that he had the whistling habit, but, O-boo-hoo. I didn't think that was what brought me to jail."

"So, when I saw a skirt in the store," continued the prisoner, "that would just match his striped trousers, I took it." And when she finished she wept bitterly.

"I will discharge you, Maggie," he said, "because you have been in jail for five weeks awaiting trial, and that is punishment enough. I know a great many people who have finer dresses than the one you were tempted to steal who are worse criminals than you are, but they are not found out. You may go, but beware of young men who wear striped trousers and whistle."

ENCOURAGEMENT.

From the New York Times.

One of the most modest of men is the dean of American letters, William D. Howells. When approached by the struggling author or the reporter, he does not play the granger, but rather indulges in pleasant reminiscences.

A writer asked him recently what particular bit of praise had inspired him most, and he said:

"It was just a chance remark made in an out of the way and very much hidden person. It was years ago, when life was harder than it is now. I was in a Canadian hotel rooming about the place, not knowing what to do. So I went to the desk and conned the names on the register. Another man with a friend evidently felt the same way I did, for they peeped over my shoulder. One said to the other: 'Say! I guess this place is alright. Howells is here!'"

"This was the first time I had ever heard myself spoken of by strangers. It gave me a peculiar kind of encouragement, different from any sort of a sensation I have felt since."

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1858 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cents size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

"Dick" Wainwright.

Three jackies came to town to "blow." C. C., an old sea lawyer, had $25 wadded in his hip pocket. A new found friend, solicitous for his welfare, wanted him to fold the notes reasonably. "Say, my boy," he protested, "I'm too old a hand. We don't want to keep this money. We've come to town to blow and we're going to blow; and the sooner we blow the better." "What's your ship?" "The Newark." "Who's the captain?" "Dick Wainwright." "Dick Wainwright of the Gloucester?" "The same." "What sort of a chap is he?" "What do the crew think of him?" "Oh, Dick's all right. He's a bully fellow, only stricter'n."—New York Press.

CONSTIPATED BOWELS.

To have good health, the body should be kept in a laxative condition, and the bowels moved at least once a day, so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. Mr. G. L. Edwards, 142 N. Main street, Wichita, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine to regulate the liver and bowels for the past ten years, and found it a reliable remedy." Price 50c.

DISAGREEABLE REFLECTIONS

The mirror never flatters; it tells the truth, no matter how much it may hurt the pride or how humiliating and disagreeable the reflections. A red, rough skin is fatal to beauty, and blackheads, blotches and pimples are ruinous to the complexion, and no wonder such desperate efforts are made to hide these blemishes, and cover over the defects, and some never stop to consider the danger in skin foods, face lotions, soaps, salves and powders, but apply them vigorously and often without regard to consequences, and many complexions are ruined by the chemicals and poisons contained in these cosmetics.

Skin diseases are due to internal causes, to humors in the blood, and to attempt a cure by external treatment is an endless, hopeless task. Some simple wash or ointment is often beneficial when the skin is much inflamed or itches, but you can't depend upon local remedies for permanent relief, for the blood is continually throwing off impurities which irritate and clog the glands and pores of the skin, and as long as the blood remains unhealthy, just so long will the eruptions last. To effectually and permanently cure skin troubles the blood must be purified and the system thoroughly cleansed and built up, and S. S. S., the well known blood purifier and tonic, is acknowledged superior to all other remedies for this purpose. It is the only guaranteed strictly vegetable blood remedy. It never deranges the system or impairs the digestion like Potash and Arsenic and drugs of this character, but aids in the digestion and assimilation of food and improves the appetite. Being a blood purifier and tonic combined, the humors and poisons are counteracted and the blood made rich and pure, and at the same time the general health and system is rapidly built up and good health is established, and this, after all, is the secret of a smooth, soft skin and beautiful complexion.

If you have any skin trouble send for our free book, "The Skin and Its Diseases." No charge for medical advice. Write us about your case.

YOUTHFUL COUPLE WED AT THE GREYNA GREEN.

Miss Bennie House or Steele, one of the 15 year old girls who ran away about a week ago from their homes in Mechanicsburg, and who was supposed to have gone to St. Louis to marry Ed Coley, has finally succeeded in having the nuptial knot tied. She and the youth went to Metropolis Saturday and were married. The girls, it will be remembered, were found up near Gilbertsville, where they were trying to catch a train. The young man is employed at one of the South Side factories.

HOT WEATHER WEAKNESS.

If you feel lagged out, listless and lacking in energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestion perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Herbine will do, it is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H. J. Freegar, Proprietor, Grand View Hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat it. It was recommended to me by Dr. Newton, Newton, Kan." 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

EDDYVILLE FULL

HUNDREDS OF STRANGERS WERE THERE YESTERDAY MORNING.

Eddyville, Lyon county, was a busy place yesterday. The Dick Fowler took an excursion crowd up from Paducah, having about 400 when she landed at Eddyville. There was then an excursion party of between 600 and 700 taken there over the Illinois Central from Evansville and Hopkinsville, and it is said there were more strangers there than ever known before. All apparently spent a pleasant day.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Written at Random.

The ups and downs of life have provided many writers with a prolific theme, and there is still always something new in the way of incidents to further illustrate the idea.

There is now singing in the chorus at the Casino theater a man whose hair is gray, but whose voice is yet good. At one time he sang in grand opera, and had leading roles. Now he sings in the chorus. It is only one of many cases of the kind. His luck changed, he grew old, and here he is still struggling.

The remarks made at a baseball game by the unknown end unsmiling wits of the bleachers and grand stand are often worthy of preservation. They never fail to strike one with a sense of humor as being very laughable. For instance the other day Bob Langford, who played in Paducah many years ago, and is no longer young, bobbed up again in the Henderson ball team. The first time the fans laid eyes on him, some urchin squeaked: "There's old 'Dynamite'—it's his second time on earth." "Dynamite" as he was always called when he used to play with the Paducah, fooled them, however, as he is still a good man anywhere.

Dr. H. P. Sights has a new method of collecting bills. It is inexpensive and highly satisfactory, and has mystery and a tinge of romance added to it. The other day he received a mysterious looking letter through the mails. He did not recognize the handwriting, for it was a print that was doubtless intended as a disguise. Inside he found a blank card, inscribed with the words, "For services rendered," and to which was fastened a $10 bill. There was nothing to show who sent it or what the services rendered were, and Dr. Sights has no idea where the money came from. He had no difficulty in realizing the fact that it was good money, however, and a very nice way to get it, and is in hope it will not be his last.

Colonel John Theobald, the well known butcher, had an unusual experience the other day. He lost his Elk pin, and after worrying along for a day or two happened to see Henry Jones, the colored factotum about the market place. Henry is a somewhat peculiar man, and always walks down the middle of the street looting intently on the ground, to the right, to the left and in front, to see what he can find. He has often found valuables in this way, and long training has made him very keen of eye, although Colonel Theobald didn't think anything about these things when he came across Henry.

"Henry," he said, "I wish you'd find my Elk pin if you can, I lost it." "Jub, Mr. Theobald," replied Henry with a touch of resentment, "I've already found it."

And so he did. He had turned it over the day he found it to Mr. Will Farley, a member of the Elks, from whom Colonel Theobald then recovered it.

An old colored man preened frantically around in the vicinity of Fourth and Broadway the other day suffering from toothache. He made a trip up and down legal row a time or two seeking relief, but no one had any to offer. Finally some good Samaritan came along and told the old man to follow him up the steps to a neighboring doctor's office and he would get the doctor to put a little cocaine on the throbbing molar.

The old man when he reached the door reluctantly went into the handsomely furnished apartments, and stood hovering between the effects of awe and pain. His benefactor spoke to the doctor and said: "Doc, put a little cocaine on this old man's tooth and stop it from aching."

"Well," replied the doctor, who is something of a practical joker, "I don't like to do that. You see he may have filio-synarcosis."

"Il-h-hah what, mistah," asked the old darkey as he cocked his head and looked interested.

"Filio-synarcosis."

"Aint gwine tow ache much longer now I doan b'lieve," observed the darkey as he looked askance at the doctor. He shuffled around until he got to the door, and then hastily opening it disappeared into the hall and down the steps. He didn't know what it meant to have "filio-synarcosis," but he didn't propose to run any risks.

MORE FACTS GIVEN

The Wilkes Booth Story Seems to Have Been Hoax.

Washington People Say Identification of the Body Was Complete.

THERE ALWAYS WAS MYSTERY

Washington, June 8—The recent publication of a statement to the effect that David E. George, who died in Oklahoma, was none other than John Wilkes Booth created the greatest interest in the East, and particularly here in Washington. It revived discussion of Booth's burial and brought out some new facts. Although few doubt that Booth was the assassin, some believe that the body brought here was that of another person. While it lay on the monitor of the navy yard there was positive identification by the late Dr. J. Fred May, who had performed for Booth a slight operation for the removal of a tumor on the neck, and by a woman friend. There was much mystery woven about the case, and to deceive the public when the body was removed from the monitor a dummy was used, and both were carried away, a steamer and a rowboat each taking a handle from the monitor, so that those not immediately concerned could not determine which carried the body. The steamer proceeded down the river, and a rumor was put into circulation that below Alexandria a transfer would be made of the body to a gunboat, which would proceed to see and cast it overboard. In the meantime there had been prepared a box for the body in the carpenter shop of the navy yard, but this was not used.

The rowboat, after beating about the eastern branch for some time, finally landed its charge on a wharf at the arsenal, and while it lay there a sentry prevented the approach of anyone. An attempt was made to dig a grave in one of the cells of the old penitentiary building, but such progress was made—the floors being of stone laid in cement—that a place in the old storeroom, a few feet east of the commanding officer's present residence, was selected. Here the first interment was made. The body, wrapped in an army blanket, was put in a box, and a representative of the war department, with two ordinance officers, three or four of Baker's detectives and several civilian employees were present.

These facts became known, but so industriously circulated was the report that the body had been taken to sea that people generally could not be induced to believe otherwise, especially since a few days later the illustrated papers published pictures of the burial at sea. The body remained in its grave in Washington for some two years, when it was removed to one of the storehouses of the arsenal and buried under the floor with those of Capt. Wirz of Andersonville fame, Payne, Mrs. Surratt and others who were executed in July, 1865, as accomplices of Booth.

In February, 1869, an order was given by President Johnson to Mr. Edwin Booth for the delivery of the body of John Wilkes Booth to his family, and Mr. J. H. Weaver of Baltimore was engaged to receive it. It was not much decayed, though it had been nearly four years in the ground, and when opened the gray blanket was not disintegrated and was strong enough to bear the weight of the body when it was transferred to a temporary coffin in which to carry it to Baltimore.

The witnesses being satisfied that there was no mistake, in less than an hour the body was on its way to Baltimore. Of those witnesses Mr. Spore and one other are the only survivors. In Baltimore the body was carefully examined by members of the family and friends and fully identified. The family were satisfied at the time of burial that there had been no substitution whatever, but that they interred John Wilkes Booth's body in the family lot.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR. ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to vote to determine the most popular teacher in every county. Votes ten cents each, ten cast at one time. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Every voter thus given the satisfaction of knowing a worthy cause and important object have been aided, at the same time a favorite teacher has received recognition. Contest conducted under auspices of Educational Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association, the organization formed to raise $100,000 for a Kentucky Building and full display of the State's products and resources at the Fair, the Legislature having failed to make an appropriation. Every educator in the State, whether teacher in public or private schools, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, Protestant or Catholic denominational school, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 3,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international event in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being tendered this trip to the Fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county outside of Jefferson casting the largest number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE TOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT.

At ten cents each every school child in the State will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children. PARENTS OF PUPILS ON ANY OF THEIR PRINCES MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so citizens of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remitting one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballot.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would make a total of 120 teachers, but as there are only 119 counties in Kentucky, the Association has decided to allow two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county. Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor. Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1901 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with. ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the State on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENTANTS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The vote will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. H. G. Benell, Louisville; Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. P. Halleck, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Hunt, Louisville; Dr. E. W. Stallin, Louisville; Dr. Arthur V. Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Froge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McIlwain Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. B. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Knos Spencer, Louisville; Miss Fannie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily R. Bracken, Louisville; and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120th trip, the county outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers. The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and in addition to this a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

DAILY THOUGHT.

"The successful man is not the one who seeks opportunities, but the one who knows how to seize them by the forelock when they present themselves."

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Marshal Crow says "dog days" come a little early this year. It is only June but the war is on.

Governor Beckham ought to send Captain Oalbourn, who is said to be an expert in furling things out, down here to find out which of the various contending Democrats is which.

The plot thickens in Breathitt. It begins to look as if some kind of a film is intended in behalf of the prisoners by their friends, and the alleged assassins may get their justice. If they had only been Republicans with Judge Conrill on the bench, the trials would have been nearly over now.

It is getting time the city was repairing Broadway and the concrete sidewalks. The matter was decided about six months ago, when the city concluded to advertise for bids, but there hasn't been any work done yet. The legislators are probably waiting for the lamps to wear off and the holes to fill up.

After the Democratic nominations are all made in the city, county, district and state this year, it will make good campaign reading to review a few of the deals that candidates have made with corruption and vice to secure such nominations. There will be some eye openers, if reports are correct, or even anything like correct.

The Republicans of Kentucky are very much gratified over the encouragement they receive on every hand. This is true not only in Paducah, but all over the state as well. The Democrats cannot agree, and their factional fights extend into nearly every county where there is a chance to get at the pinner. The contests grow more and more bitter, instead of better, and they are even carrying their fights into the courts. The indications are for the best Republican ticket this year ever offered the people of Kentucky. Realizing the certainty of victory, some of the best Republicans in the state are willing to allow the use of their names for the various nominations, and all left to do is to get a free ballot and a fair count.

JUMPED FROM CAR—Mrs. W. A. Dishon of Flournoy street jumped from a street car that came near being hit by an I. O. gravel train near Ninth and Trimble streets Saturday afternoon late. She thought there would be a collision and jumped from the platform, but escaped with a few bruises.

C. W. Cherry, a machine operator in the Oshkuna Mfg. Co. plant at Third and Boyd streets, got his left hand caught in a machine this afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock and the forefinger crushed off. He was taken to a physician's office in the city and the injury dressed.

SEVEN MILES CABLE

Will be Strung at Once by Cumberland Company.

Additions to the Switchboard Also to be Made at Once.

Manager A. L. Joynes of the Enns Telephone Co. is today clearing off the vacant lot back of the telephone office on South Fourth street for the purpose of placing thereon seven miles of cable which will be here today or tomorrow and is to be strung throughout the city. This cable will represent an expenditure of many thousands of dollars and will be placed in every portion of the city, even through Mechanicsburg to the Benton road.

When it is all up the company's capacity will be increased to 1,000 telephones. In preparation for the new subscribers added the company has just ordered another addition to the local switchboard, which will give it 800 more telephones. The work on these improvements will begin as soon as the material arrives, which will be this week. Many linemen will be employed in it.

"He stood like a Spartan, though I assure you that I did not spare the rod. A few minutes later I saw him join his brothers who had been waiting around the corner, and I heard one say, feelingly:

"Hello, Jim! Got licked, didn't you?"

"Yep," replied Master Jim, "but—with a shrug of his shoulders—"what's three minutes' licking to a whole day's fun?"

PALE ALE AND KY-LO

AGAIN DECLARED NON-INTOXICATING BY THE COURT.

A case of much interest was tried before Circuit Judge R. E. Malden of Dresden, Tenn., in which W. D. Fraizer, of Martin, Tenn., was charged with selling Laevison's Kyo and Pale Ale, which were claimed to be intoxicating; but after testing these drinks and hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses, and the proof showing them to be non-intoxicating, the jury dismissed the case, deciding that it was not a violation of the local option law to sell these beverages.

The decision is of much importance to A. M. Laevison & Co., of this city, and their many customers in this state and Tennessee.

EQUIPMENT COMING

Capt. Caldwell Receives Good
News for the Boys Here.

Paducah May Try to Get the Annual Encampment This Year.

Capt. James Caldwell of the Wheeledr Guards today received notice from the state arsenal keeper at Frankfort that there have been shipped to him at Paducah 2,000 cartridges, 60 milliforms and 120 blue shirts. These will last the local militiamen through the summer.

It is understood that Paducah will this year make an effort to secure the state guard encampment, which she came near getting last year. The home boys would naturally prefer taking a trip somewhere else, but there are others who want to get the encampment, realizing what benefit would result to the city.

As to the army maneuvers mentioned in the dispatches, it does not seem to be generally believed among the state guard members here that they will be held in Kentucky, as there is said to be insufficient available territory for them.

LEARNING THINGS.

WE ARE ALL IN THE APPREN-TICE CLASS.

When a simple change of diet brings back health and happiness the story is briefly told. A lady of Springfield, Ill., says: "After being afflicted for years with nervousness and heart trouble, I received a shock four years ago that left me in such a condition that my life was despaired of. I could get no relief from doctors nor from the numberless heart and nerve medicines I tried because I didn't know that the coffee was daily putting me back more than the doctors could put me ahead.

"Finally at the request of a friend I left off coffee and began the use of Postum, and against my convictions I gradually improved in health until for the past six or eight months I have been entirely free from nervousness and those terrible sinking, weakening spells of heart trouble.

"My troubles all came from the use of coffee, which I had drunk from childhood, and yet they disappeared when I quit coffee and took up the use of Postum." Name given by Postum
Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Many people marvel at the effects of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum, but there is nothing marvelous about it—only common sense.

A FATAL SHOOTING

Two Negro Laborers on New Railroad
Fight Over Crap
Game.

THE MURDERER ESCAPES

Noah Coffee, colored, shot and fatally wounded another negro named Rooks last night at the railroad camp of McArthur Bros., between La Center and Woodville, Ballard county and made his escape.

News of the shooting reached this city at noon through an employee of the McArthur company who informed Sheriff Lee Potter of the affair. He stated that the shooting resulted from a crap game in which both men had participated.

The Coffee negro did the shooting with a .38 calibre pistol and Rooks right lung was pierced through. The physicians say he cannot live more than a few hours longer. The authorities at Woodville were notified of the affair and are out today looking for the fugitive. Sheriff Potter did not receive a description of the fugitive. Should the victim die it will make the second killing since the railroad was started, one negro being in jail awaiting trial or a killing several months ago over a crap game.

To Cut Glass.
Who ever heard of cutting glass with a thread? Yet it can be done.
Dip the thread in sulphur and wrap around the part of the piece of glass that you wish to cut. Then put fire to the thread, and while it is burning dip it quickly in cold water, and the glass will be cut.

POLICE COURT.

One Prosecuting Witness Has Been Taken From Town.

Defendant in One Case Killed in a Wreck in Tennessee Recently.

Andrew Boyd failed to answer to a charge of breach of the peace, which had been pending against him here in the police court for some time, when the case was called this morning. He was charged with drawing a knife on Rachel Davis. It was stated that Boyd was killed in a wreck down the Illinois Central a few days ago, and for this reason the charge was dismissed.

In the case against Mann Dobson, who was arrested at Brookport for assaulting Eph Carter by striking him in the head, the warrant was filed away and Dobson was released. Carter was found unconscious two or three weeks ago and never became rational.
Physicians could have restored his reason had an operation been permitted,

Theatrical Notes.

Yesterday was a good day at Wallace park, a large crowd going out to enjoy the concert by Prof. Deal's band. Some of them were caught in the shower, but most took the first car and went to the baseball grounds, where they found shelter in the grandstand.

Miss Martha Green, formerly a popular young lady here and an eloquent orator of much ability, recently gave a successful recital at Mobile, Ala., in which she was assisted by some of the best amateur talent there. Miss Green is a sister of Mr. Will V. Green of the Petter boat store, and, as seen from the program, still calls Paducah home.

Probably the first Sunday performance of an opera ever given in Paducah was that last night at the Casino theater, Wallace park, of "Said Pasha" by the Boston Ideal company.
It was well put on and the members were in good voice. Miss Godfrey shared the honors, having a solo in which she shows one of the most perfect and widest ranges of voice imaginables. "Said Pasha" seems to be the most popular opera yet sung by the Ideals. Despite the fact that it had been put on three times before there was a large crowd out last night, and it is believed when it becomes generally known that there will be a performance every Sunday night the theater will be filled.

"OLD GORGON'S" ALPHABET

Some Modern Maxims by John Graham, Pork Packer
Compiled From "Letters From a Self-Made Merchant to his Son," by George Horace Lorimer

A tactful man can pull the stinger from a bee without getting stung.
Beauty is only skin deep, but that's deep enough to satisfy any reasonable man.
Clothes don't make the man, but they make all of him except his hands and face during business hours.
Duty means something unpleasant which the other fellow ought to do.
Easiest way to make enemies is to hire friends.
Fools will turn out fools whether they go to college or not.
Give most men a good listener and most women enough note paper, and they'll tell all they know.
Hot air can take up a balloon a long ways, but it can't keep it there.
If you give some fellows a talent wrapped in a napkin to start with in business, they would swap the talent for a gold brick and lose the napkin.
Just to be sociable some men will eat a little food now and then, but what they really live on is tobacco.
Knowing how to be humble is a heap more important than knowing how to be proud.
Loyalty is the one commodity that hasn't any market value, and it's the one you can't pay too much for.
Marriages may be made in heaven, but most engagements are made in the back parlor with the gas so low that a fellow doesn't really get a square look at what he's taking.
Never threaten, because a threat is a promise to pay that isn't always convenient to meet, but if you don't make it good it hurts your credit.
Of course you're in no position yet to think of being engaged, and that's why I'm a little afraid that you may be planning to get married.
Pulling from above and boosting from below make climbing easy.
Quick to fire, slow to hire—when you've found you've hired the wrong man you can't get rid of him too quick.
Remember that when you're right you can afford to keep your temper and that when you're wrong you can't afford to lose it.
Say less than the other fellow and listen more than you talk, for when a man's listening he isn't telling on himself, and he's flattering the fellow who is.
The fellow who has to break open the baby's bank toward the last of the week for car fare isn't going to be any Russell Sage.
Unmarried men are in good deal like a piece of unimproved real estate—they aren't of any particular use except to build on.
Vacation of two weeks—enough to make a sick boy well or a lazy one lazier.
Whenever any one offers to let you in on the ground floor it's a pretty safe rule to take the elevator to the roof garden.
X-mas is only a small part of a manager's duties.
You can trust a woman's taste on everything except men, and it's mighty lucky that she slips up there or we'd pretty high all be bachelors.
Zulu, explained the deacon, are deprived of twenty-five helpful little traits every time you smoke a two bit cigar.

HE HAD HALF-LUCK.

Good and Bad Fortune About Balanced With Him.
"There is such a thing as luck—and there is such a thing as half-luck," said a fireside philosopher. "Many men are heard to complain because they don't have luck, but I'm fairly well satisfied, for I have had half-luck all my days."
"When I was a little shaver about 8 years old my mother sent me on horseback from our farm to the country store at the crossroads, to exchange, or 'trade,' as we then said, six eggs for some brown sugar. I carefully packed the eggs three in one jacket pocket and three in the other. My mother wanted me to carry them in a little basket or a bag, but I had my own notions and wouldn't do it. Well, in trying to make our old horse Dolly, run at a circus gait—after I got out of sight of the house—I was thrown off and broke three of the eggs.
"When I reached home with a small quantity of sugar and an egg-spattered jacket, I received the two doughnuts which had been promised me for going after the sugar—also a lively switching from my mother for breaking the eggs. That's what I mean by half-luck. I had broken only half the eggs and was both rewarded and punished.
"This half-luck has presided over my life throughout," continued the philosopher, according to the Detroit Free Press. "I've made money and lost some of it; good health is mine about half the time; one of my sons is industrious—the other is out! one daughter married well and the other did not. Of my two wives, one ruled me and the other one I could influence. So it has gone—half-luck all the way along; but I'm not complaining; no, indeed. I'd be afraid to complain for fear of worse."

Baby Carriages for Indians.

This is the season of the year when the Indian chiefs come in from the reservations to see the Great Father. There are a score of them in the city now. A group of half a dozen standing on the curb watching an automobile recalled to some Texans who were passing the story Colonel Bill Sterrett used to tell about the man who went into the Indian territory to sell baby carriages.

Everybody said he was crazy. It was admitted that there was a flood of babies in the territory, but no one could see what the squaws, who were used to packing their offspring on their backs, could do with baby carriages.

Still, orders began to come back, first for dozens and then for car loads and finally Sterrett went out to investigate. He went into one of the Indian villages.

"And I'll be dashed," said Colonel Bill, "if I didn't see a dozen big fat Indians sitting in baby carriages, all scrouged up, while the squaws were pushing them around. The baby carriage man had made the Indians believe that baby carriages were the right kind of pleasure rigs for the robin red man."—New York World.

GRAUSTARK

...By...
GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Copyright, 1901, by Herbert S. Stone

"My boy, there are lots of things we don't know. We're too busy. Don't you remember that but one half the world knows how the other half lives? I'll wager there are not twenty-five people in the United States who know there is such a country as Graustark."

"I don't believe that a single soul over there has heard of the place," vouchsafed Lorry, very truthfully.

"I'll accept the amendment," said Angulish. Then he proceeded to take a snapshot of the castle from the middle of the street. He also secured a number of views of the mountain side, of some odd little dwelling houses and two or three interesting exposures of red-robed children. Everybody, from the children up, wore loose robes, some red, some black, some blue, but all in solid colors. Beneath these robes were baggy trousers and blouses among the men, short skirts among the women. All wore low boots and a sort of turban. These costumes, of course, were confined to the native civilians. At the hotel the garb of the aristocrats was vastly different. The women were gowned after the latest Viennese patterns, and the men, except those of the army, wore clothes almost as smart as those which covered the Americans. Miss Guggenlocker—or whatever her name might be—and her carriage companion were as exquisitely gowned as any women to be seen on the boulevard or in Hyde park of an afternoon. It was late in the afternoon when they returned to the hotel. After dinner, during which they were again objects of interest, they strolled off toward the castle, smoking their cigars and enjoying the glorious air. Being a stranger in a strange land, Lorry acted on the romantic painter's advice and also stuck a revolver in his pocket. He laughed at the suggestion that there might be use for the weapon in such a quiet, model, well-regulated town, but Angulish insisted:

"I've seen a lot of these fellows around town who look like genuine brigands and cutthroats, and I think it just as well that we be prepared," asserted he positively, and his friend gratified what he called a whim.

At 10 o'clock the slender moon dropped behind the mountains, and the valley, which had been touched with its tender light, gradually took on the somberness and stillness of a starlit night. The town slumbered at 11, and there were few lights to be seen in the streets or in the houses. Here and there strolled the white-uniformed police guards, occasionally soldiers hurried hitherward, now and then belated citizens moved through the dense shadows on the sidewalks, but the Americans saw still life in its reality. Returning from their stroll beside the castle walls far to the west of where they had entered the grounds that afternoon, they paused in the middle of Castle avenue near the main gate and looked down the dark, deserted street. Far away could be seen the faint glare from their hotel. One or two street lamps burned in the business part of the city. Aside from these evidences of life there was nothing but darkness, silence, peacefulness, about them everywhere.

"Think of Paris or New York at 11 o'clock," said Lorry, a trifle awed by the solitude of the sleeping city.

"It's as dead as a piece of prairie land," said his friend. "And it makes me sleepy to look down that street. It's a mile to the hotel, too, Lorry. We'd better move along."

"Let's lie down near the hedge, smoke another cigar and wait till midnight. It is too glorious a night to be lost in sleep," urged Lorry, whose heart was light over the joys of the day to come. "I can dream just as well here, looking at that dark old castle, with its one little tower light, as I could if I tried to sleep in a hard bed down at the hotel."

Angulish, who was more or less of a dreamer himself, consented, and after lighting fresh cigars they threw themselves on the soft, dry grass near the tall hedge that fenced the avenue as it neared the castle grounds. For half an hour they talked by fits and starts, one thinking of the face he had seen, the other picturing in his artist eye the painting he had vowed to create from the moonlit castle of an hour ago.

"Some one coming," murmured the painter, half rising to his elbow attentively.

"Soldiers," said the other briefly.

"They'll not disturb us."

"They'll not even see us, I should say. It's as dark as Egypt under this hedge. They'll pass if we keep quiet."

The figures of two men could be seen approaching from the city, dim and ghostly in the moonlight, and the scullery window in the basement thrice, carrying a lighted candle. You will see this light through the window and will know that all is well inside the castle. Ostrom, you will then lead the two Viennese to a place directly beneath the third window in the princess' sleeping apartment. There are several clumps of shrubbery there, and under these they will hide, protected from the gaze of any watchman who is not with us. You and Geddos will be admitted to the scullery by the cook, who will conduct you to the hall

"He should be here at 12," guard at the west gate and two to attend the carriage and horses in the ravine beyond the castle."

"When did these men arrive?"

"This morning. I kept them in my sister's home until an hour ago. They are now in the ravine awaiting Ostrom and myself. Are you sure, Michael, that the guards and the cook have been made to understand every detail? The faintest slip will mean ruin."

"They are to be trusted fully. Their pay is to be high enough to make it an object to be infallible. The guard, Dushan, will leave the gate unwatched, and you will chloroform him, with his consent, of course. You will enter, as I have explained before, and crawl along in the dark shadow of the wall until you reach the arbor that leads to the kitchen and scullery. Here another guard, Itahlo, known to Ostrom as a comrade in her royal highness' service not more than a year ago, will be encountered. He will be bound and gagged without the least noise or struggle. Just as the clock strikes 2 the cook will walk past the scullery window in the basement thrice, carrying a lighted candle. You will see this light through the window and will know that all is well inside the castle. Ostrom, you will then lead the two Viennese to a place directly beneath the third window in the princess' sleeping apartment. There are several clumps of shrubbery there, and under these they will hide, protected from the gaze of any watchman who is not with us. You and Geddos will be admitted to the scullery by the cook, who will conduct you to the hall leading to her highness' bedroom. The man who guards her door is called Danno. He will not be at his post, but will accompany you when you leave the castle. You will understand how carefully you must enter her room and how deeply she must be chloroformed. In the adjoining room her lady-in-waiting, the Countess Dagmar, sleeps. If her door is ajar, you are to creep in and chloroform her, leaving her undisturbed. Then the princess is to be wrapped in the cloth you take with you and lowered from the window to the men below. They are to remain in hiding until you have left the castle and have reached their aide. It will not be difficult, if caution is observed, for you to get outside of the wall and to the carriage in the ravine. I have given you this plan of action before, I know, but I desire to impress it firmly upon your minds. There must not be the slightest deviation. The precision of clockwork is necessary."

The man named Michael listened the foregoing into the ears of his companions, the palest American hearing every word distinctly. They scarcely breathed, so tremendous was the restraint imposed upon their nerves. A crime so huge, so daring as the abduction of a princess, the actual larceny of a castle to commit the theft of a human being just as an ordinary burglar would steal in and make way with the contents of a silver chest, was beyond their power of comprehension.

"We understand fully how it is to be done, and we shall get her to Ganlook on time," said Geddos confidently.

"Not a hair of her head must be harmed," cautioned the arch conspirator. "In four days I shall meet you at Ganlook. You will keep her in close confinement until you hear from me. Have you the guard's uniforms that you are to wear tonight?"

"They are with the carriage in the ravine. Ostrom and I will don them before going to the castle. In case we are seen they will throw observers off the track long enough for us to secure a good start in our flight."

"Remember, there is to be no failure. This may mean death to you, certainly a long prison term, if you are apprehended. I know it is a daring deed, but it is just of the kind that succeeds. Who would dream that mortal man could find the courage to steal a princess of the realm from her bed and spirit her away from under the very noses of her vaunted guardsmen? It is the bold, the impossible plan that wins."

"We cannot fail if your men on the inside do their work well," said Geddos, repeating what Ostrom had said. "All depends on their faithfulness."

"They will not be found wanting. Your cutthroats must be sent on to Calas with the empty carriage after you have reached Ganlook in safety. You will need them no more. Ostrom will pay them, and they are to leave the country as quickly as possible. At Calas they will be able to join a pack train that will carry them to the Great Northern railroad. From there they will have no trouble in reaching Vienna. You will explain to them, Geddos. All we need them for, as you know, is to prove by their mere presence in case of capture that the attempt was no more than a case of burglary conceived by a band of Viennese robbers. There will be no danger of capture if you once get her outside the walls. You can be half way to Ganlook before she is missed from the castle. Nor can she be found at Ganlook if you follow the instructions I gave last night. It is now nearly 1 o'clock, and in half an hour the night will be as dark as Erebus. Go, men; you have no more time to lose, for this must be accomplished slowly, carefully, deliberately. There must be no haste until you are ready for the race to Ganlook. Go, but for God's sake, do not harm her! And do not fail!"

"Failure means more to us than to you, Michael," half-whispered the hoarse Ostrom.

"Failure means everything to me! I must have her!"

Already the two hirelings were moving off toward the road that ran west of the castle grounds. Michael watched them for a moment and then started swiftly in the direction of the city. The watchers had not been able to distinguish the faces of the conspirators, but they could never forget the calm, cold voice of Michael, with its quaint, jerky English.

"What shall we do?" whispered Angulish when the men were out of hearing.

"God knows!" answered Lorry. "This is the most damnable thing I ever heard of. Are we dreaming? Did we really see and hear those men?" He had risen to his feet, his companion sitting weakly before him.

"There's no question about it! It's a case of abduction, and we have it in our power to spoil the whole job. My god, but this is luck, Gren!" Angulish was quivering with excitement as he rose to his feet. "Shall we notify old Dangloss or alarm the steward? There's no time to be lost if we want to trap these fellows. The chief devil is bound to escape, for we can't get him and the others too, and they won't peach on him. Come, we must be lively! What are you standing there for? The trap must be set!"

"Wait! Why not do the whole job ourselves?"

"How—what do you mean?"

"Why should we alarm anybody? We know the plans as well as these scoundrels themselves. Why not follow them right into the castle, capture them red-handed, and then do the alarming? I'm in for saving the Princess of Graustark with our own hands and right under the noses of her vaunted guardsmen, as Michael says." Lorry was thrilled by the spirit of adventure. His hand gripped his friend's arm and his face was close to his ear. "It is the grandest opportunity two human beings ever had to distinguish themselves!"

Anatomically True.

When you want accuracy in a picture there is only one sure way to secure it—by a photograph! A drawing made on careful measurements may or may not be accurate; a photograph must be. In the same way when you want an accurate fit in a shoe there is only one sure way to secure it.

Don't trust to luck on a last made by ordinary measurements, but use a last constructed on an "X-ray" photograph.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe fits the foot as no other shoe ever can, because in shaping it I have been guided entirely by "X-ray" photographs of the foot.

This explains the marvelous fit of a "Dorothy Dodd." Sincerely yours, Dorothy Dodd.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

HOPKINSVILLE SHUT OUT.

Cairo, June 8—The game here yesterday afternoon was witnessed by a large crowd and resulted in a score of 17 to 0 in favor of Cairo. The Hopkinsville boys seemed to go up in the air.

HENDERSON WON SATURDAY.

Paducah was shut out Saturday by the Henderson boys. The boys failed to hit as they have been doing and contrary to expectations Henderson found Girard easily, passing out seven or eight hits. The home boys played at a disadvantage, however, and lost courage from the start. Duas unplayed and gave satisfaction.

The Centrals and Sterlings played ball yesterday morning at the I. O. shop grounds and the former were defeated by a score of 15 to 4. The line up was as follows:

I. O. shop employees: Satherland, catcher; Berry, pitcher; Akens, first base; Alman, second base; Grate, third base; Beadurat, short stop; B. Satherland, left field; Roark, center field; Sanders, right field.

The Centrals: Smith catcher; Akers, pitcher; Kinkle, first base; Berry, second base; Flaunsgau, third base; Dustin, short stop; Satherland, left field; Mix, centerfield; Jones, right field. Bhabie and Bhabie, battery for the Sterlings, did excellent work while Akers, for the Centrals, was "showed up" in great style.

During the last of the game John Haggerty, a boy who was standing behind the batter, was struck by a foul ball knocked by Albert Bhabie. He was struck in the head and rendered unconscious for some time. The boy was taken to the I. O. hospital where the injuries were looked after.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Why can't we get a crack at Cairo? The rooters were out in force yesterday and had everything from tin horns up.

Le Compte is Paducah's star fielder. He accepts all chances and misses none.

All the boys played a good game yesterday, and batted well. The fans like to see it.

Counting the people on the fence and in the trees, there must have been 3,000 witnessed yesterday's game.

Will Baker has gone to Vincennes in charge of the Paducah boys. Colonel John Cobb remaining at home this trip.

Faller, who quit here yesterday, was persuaded to make this circuit with the team, and will probably remain with the boys. He is a good player.

Paducah went to Vincennes late yesterday afternoon and Henderson went home for a series. The home team will be here again next Sunday and play Hopkinsville.

Bob Laagsford has resigned with the Henderson team and is now here. He would like to play ball with the Paducah team and is known as one of the smart hitters ever seen here.

When a ball team comes to Paducah to play, the management and members ought to be told in advance that Paducah people do not want any wrangling. That the umpire is there to umpire and his decisions should go. "Heeding" detracts from the interest in the game, and delays it as well. Both teams ought to observe the rules relative to coaches, and much unnecessary delay in getting players away from the base lines would be obviated. If the teams fully understood this in advance they would get along much better.

A MANIA WITH HER

Small Girl Who Ransacks Houses
for Plunder.

She is Only Twelve Years Old and Was Arrested This Morning.

Mattie Casey, a 12 year old girl, is the first girl ever arrested here on a charge of housebreaking. At various times a number of other boys have been arrested but Mattie is the first girl of such extreme youthfulness ever arrested here. She is charged with having broken into the house of Mr. Wilford Rogers, over the Rogers grocery at 12th and Broadway.

Mr. Rogers and wife yesterday went walking and when the retarded found that their apartments had been entered and the contents of the drawers and cabinets were strewn in confusion everywhere, but nothing was missed.

The girl has been working about the house and when arrested this morning, confessed that she did it, and that it was not the first time, although it was the first time so far as Mr. Rogers knew.

It is claimed that she is the same thief who entered Mr. Pa' Lally's residence at Teuth and Trimbale a few days ago and ransacked everything, but taking nothing so far as is known. She seems to have a mania for it.

She was taken to the city hall this morning and will be kept there until it is decided what to do with her. She denies nothing and seems to be very unconcerned about her misdeeds.

Correct Summer Clothing The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. We show the new Irish Donegal Cloths, Chevots and Home-spuns in coats and pants for men and young men
